

Restoring Outlook Express Address Book

In order to restore your outlook express address book you must have copies of the *.wab files.

First of all start an empty outlook, by doing this outlook will create a new address book folder at a similar location to that shown below.

C:\documents and settings\users name\Application Data\Microsoft\Address Book

In the Address Book folder you will find a file with a name like username.wab

Now with outlook closed delete the new file made by outlook and replace it with the *.wab file that you have restored by using RBack.

If the file is a different name then the one you deleted make sure you rename it before you reopen outlook.

Now open Outlook and your contacts should now be viewable.
